

This document is a preview version of the forthcoming 2019 Vancouver Building By-law and is provided as courtesy to construction and design professionals, building owners, and other stakeholders wishing to familiarize themselves with the general substance of changes from previous editions of the Building By-law. Users of this document are hereby notified that this is a transitory document provided “as is”, that will neither be supported nor updated, and will be superseded by the final published document. User are advised that By-law development can occur quickly, and users should contact the City of Vancouver for the latest information.