
ELECTRICAL SAFETY ACT

CHAPTER 109

1 The Electrical Safety Act is amended in section 19 by adding the following subsections:

- (4) On an appeal under subsection (2) (a) or (3) (a), the appeal board must refer any appeal or any issue respecting the structural design, the materials used in construction, the methods of construction, the alteration, the occupation or the use of a building to the Building Safety Standards Appeal Board.
- (5) If an issue or appeal is referred to the appeal board under section 4 (4) of the Building Safety Standards Act, the appeal board must hear the matter referred to it as if it were an appeal under this Act.

1981-13-14 [en. 14.3 (3), (4)].

Commencement

- 2 Section 1 comes into force by regulation of the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

1981-13-20